How to reach us

By car

The motorway system connects Turin to Milan, Venice, and Trieste (A4); to Bologna, Florence, Rome and Naples (A21+A1); and to Genova (A21+A26).

From Nice and Marseille, you can take A10 Genova-Ventimiglia motorway and then A6 Savona-Torino.

All the motorways end in the ring road. Take exit for Corso Unità D'Italia and follow the directions for Lingotto.

By train

From Porta Nuova and Porta Susa railway stations catch the metro towards Lingotto, get off at Lingotto. When the metro closes, you can take bus line 101. From Lingotto railway station catch bus line 18.

By plane

From Sandro Pertini Airport, about 16 km away from the city, you can reach the city centre by train, by taxi, or by shuttle bus. Shuttle bus: it connects the airport to Porta Nuova railway station in about 40 minutes.

Train: it connects the airport to Dora railway station. Once you exit from the airport doors, just walk for about 140 metres and you will find the platform to get on the train. The train stops also at Dora and Madonna di Campagna.

Taxi: taxis are parked opposite the arrivals exit.

The hospitality you deserve

Located in Turin within the homonymous building, which also houses the Congress Centre and the exhibition centre Lingotto Fiere, Camplus Living Lingotto is a perfect blend of modernity, efficiency, and practicality, whether you come here on holiday, on study or on business.

Brightness and great functionality characterise every room, whether it is a meeting room or one of our bedrooms equipped with modern conveniences. Placed in the city centre, in the middle of an area full of cultural and professional exchanges, Camplus Living Lingotto is a peaceful spot, a good starting point to submerge yourself into the heart of the city life.

Turin: a city to discover

At the foot of the Alps, Turin was the capital of Italy from 1861 to 1865, and before the capital of the Duchy of Savoy and the kingdom of Sardinia. It is a city with a historical and regal flavour, with its old-fashioned squares and its evocative porticoes of medieval architecture, its elegant residences of the House of Savoy and other buildings in art nouveau style. The symbol of the city is the Mole Antonelliana, which today houses the National Museum of Cinema. Other places you must visit: Saint John the Baptist Cathedral, which dates back to the XV century and which safeguards the Shroud of Turin; the Egyptian museum (the world's second most important after Cairo's) and the Castle of Valentino.

High quality services

After a job meeting or a visit to the monuments of the city, you can allow yourself a well-earned rest at Camplus Living Lingotto, where single or double rooms, spacious and full of light, with the wonderful view of the Alps, the river Po, and the hills around Turin await you. But here you can also find areas for your business, a newspaper library, a laundry room, a reading room, a computer room, a gymnasium, and a coffee area.

Within a young and lively environment, a skilled staff is at your complete disposal in order to satisfy your needs and find the right solutions for your stay in Turin.

For your business

A conference room with 70 places makes Camplus Living Lingotto suitable for meetings and professionals of every field. The room, with an unusual design trait which surely will give your event a particular mood, is equipped with the most recent audio/video technologies. For smaller meetings you can also use the meeting room, which can accommodate about 25 people, or the workshop room, very bright and suitable for small work groups (no more than 24 people).

Camplus Living Lingotto also keeps a special eye on freelancers, reserving them a space for coworking, where sharing the same work place fosters a work concept based on exchange, dialogue, and cooperation among professionals belonging to different fields.
